Wednesday, October 3, 2018

From the desk of our Pastors . . .

As I prepare to leave for my honeymoon, I am turning to my friend Pastor Heidi for her thoughts. This is what she wrote for October. And in all ways, to God be the glory and honor forever.

There is a struggling cherry tree growing in our front yard. We have tried everything to help it with fertilizer, water, and weed barrier, but the only really healthy part seems to be the suckers growing at the base. Each year, I lovingly trim off the truly dead branches, prune away the suckers, and then, see what else needs an assist. Pruning the tree this year reminded me of that unfathomable, wonderful, and incredibly hopeful passage in John, where Jesus says, "I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinegrower. He removes every branch in me that bears no fruit. Every branch that bears fruit he prunes to make it bear more fruit...I am the vine, you are the branches. Those who abide in me and I in them bear much fruit, because apart from me you can do nothing" (John 15:1-5 NRSV).

Jesus knows all our flaws and assures us that the grace given to us is sufficient for us to be fruitful. He is the vine that will tap the nutrients and moisture from the earth and pass it on to us to bear the fruits of the spirit that will be most useful to God and our beloved neighbors. There have been many times in history when we thought: sure, we are capable of fixing things with a new invention, a new algorithm, a new discovery, but in the end, we discover that as the branches alone, nothing is better; we cannot do it ourselves.

When we abide in him, we can endure the pruning and the temptations, and be like the sun coming out on a gray day to reveal that we have a great God; that what God has created is good; that there are good people in the world; and that what we imagined was a dream can become a hoped-for reality. Luke writes, “it is your Father’s good pleasure to give you the kingdom (Luke 12:32 NRSV). God’s goodness for us is abundant.

Fall clean-up is a good time to think about pruning away what is no longer useful, and about what we might need to keep for Winter. Do you ever think about what you really need?...perhaps when packing a suitcase for a trip, or a backpack for a hike. In many ways, we struggle with this every day: with our thoughts; with our social media; with how we spend our spare time. Our lives are bombarded by cell phone notifications, advertisements, traffic, and so many other distractions. James writes, “Blessed is anyone who endures temptation” (James 1:12 NRSV). Our faith in God will not free us from our struggles, but it will enable us to persevere through them.

Paul provides some guidance regarding what we should do: “Finally, beloved, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is pleasing, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence and if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. Keep on doing the things that you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, and the God of peace will be with you” (Philippians 4:8-9 NRSV). As we pray, “lead us not into temptation,” we also commit ourselves to acting upon what Jesus taught us by example, and what good qualities other people have exemplified in their lives. How will our lives model this for our children and others?

To feel God’s peace, we, too, can make deliberate commitments to act lovingly, kindly, and “unfollow” or “change the channel on” suggestions, people, and things that do us harm, or make us angry, or separate us from God.

Fall clean-up is also a good time to appreciate the fruits of our harvest; the changing colors of the plants and trees; the subtle change in the angle of the sun’s rays. Even things that seem finished, or broken can be used in a different ways that give them new importance...perhaps we make a table display of the pretty leaves, or make a mosaic of broken china pieces. We are much like these flawed but useful things for God. Even with all our imperfections, God has a fruitful use for us. “We have gifts that differ according to the grace given to us” (Romans 12:6 NRSV). When we exercise our gifts of the spirit with humility and kindness, those around us are built-up, comforted and encouraged. When we hold these gifts to ourselves, or expect praise or a reward for them, then, no one is helped. God’s goodness for us is abundant.

CODE PURPLE INFO & UPCOMING TRAINING!

We are building a team of volunteers to help serve our homeless guests for the 2018/2019 cold weather season! Please join us to learn more about Code Purple and how you can get involved. This vital resource is dependent on volunteerism as Code Purple Sussex County is 100% volunteer run. Most of our emergency winter sanctuaries are open each night from December 15th until March 15th. Volunteer spots include: intake, overnight, morning relief, clean-up crews, transportation, laundry and dinner service. (To Sign Up for dinner sponsorship and other volunteer opportunities, please use the link found on our website at codepurplesussexcounty.com Volunteers/Servants!). Last year we served 150 literally homeless neighbors at our shelters. We served the elderly, families, the infirm, those recently released from prison, and sometimes persons struggling with addiction or persons with mental health not being treated. Each guest is uniquely homeless...each vulnerable...each one matters!

Code Purple opens "on call" once the weather dips down below 32°. We call these "bookends" and volunteers will sign up to volunteer if Code Purple is called. However, once December 15th arrives, we have 6 sanctuaries stay open regardless of the temperature until March 15th. Our Laurel sanctuary opens every night of January & February. It takes an average of 12 people per night at each site to effectively operate a Code Purple Sussex County Site (we have 11 total certified CPSC Sites). The other sites open as overflow.

That means we have a potential of 132 volunteer spots to fill each night just to provide basic coverage during the season!

Come be part of the solution and join our team!
