From the desk of our Pastors . . .

I really want to visit Liechtenstein. It is the fourth smallest country in Europe with a population of only 40,000. More than 18,000 employees commute into Liechtenstein on a daily basis. There is something about that concept that tickles me – commuting across national boundaries like we cross over state lines. There are no customs to worry about. One minute you are driving in Switzerland and the next you are in Liechtenstein, like going from Delaware to Maryland.

I also think it has to be one of the most laid-back countries in the world. There are only 87 police officers and 38 civil law enforcement employees for the entire country and yet it has one of the lowest crime rates in the world. It is so low key that in 2007, a 170-man Swiss infantry unit got lost and inadvertently ended up in Liechtenstein before realizing they had crossed the border. They quickly retreated but by international law, they had invaded. When the Swiss called to let Liechtenstein know what had occurred, the supposed response was "No problem, these things happen."

Wouldn't it be great if we could all be like Liechtenstein? Too often these days we are caught up in feeling as if we are being wronged over every little slight and misspoken word, even those caused by mistakes or completely inadvertently.

Jesus was wronged in every way possible by people who physically, mentally and emotionally abused Him. He was denied and betrayed by the people who claimed to love Him the most. In His lowest moments, right before He went to the cross, the very people He came to save condemned Him to die.

If there is a better example of forgiving and getting past the hurt that others cause us, I can't imagine what it would be. Of course, Jesus is always our best example for all things, but in this particular case when we think about how Jesus responded when he was offended, we all should realize we have far to go to be like our Savior.

Proverbs 19:11 tells us that "Good sense makes one slow to anger, and it is his glory to overlook an offense." 2 Corinthians 12:10 reminds us that "For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities. For when I am weak, then I am strong."

If I was giving a benediction for this writing, I might be tempted to say let's all go forward and be Liechtenstein-like. But as always, let's go to witness to and follow the example of our Savior Jesus Christ to not be offended by every little thing that comes our way. In this way we bring Him honor and glory always.

Although the Bible gives us insights into what Jesus was thinking between the time he entered into Jerusalem and the night he spent in the Garden of Gethsemane, we can't totally relate. But what if we look at the "ordinary" people who witnessed the Passion events...the women around Jesus and his disciples? Or the "bad" guys... Judas, Pilate, and Caiaphas? If we look closely at the people who were part of Jesus' life during the last days before the crucifixion—their relationships and roles in the story—how might that deepen our understanding of what happened? In Entering the Passion of Jesus, Amy-Jill Levine explores the biblical texts surrounding the Passion story to help us fill in the blanks.

Again, congratulations on all your achievements! We are very proud of you! If there is anything else we can do for you, or if you need letters of reference, please let any of the Pastors know. Please take a moment to let us know your plans for next year. We would like to stay in touch.

Wishing you God's peace,

Tom Pasmore Pastor

Friends,

The Staff-Parish Relations Committee (SPRC) has been working diligently to fill the role created by Pastor Cliff's departure. We have been very fortunate to have a talented individual in Pastor Cliff who is able to fill both of the Pastor of Student Ministries and Praise Team Leader roles simultaneously. This may not be the case moving forward. To maximize the opportunity to find the right people for each these, we have elected to break the current role into the two jobs that you see listed in the next few pages. If you know of someone that you think would be a good fit for either job, please pass this information on to them and encourage them to apply. Resumes and cover letters can be sent to the SPRC care of the church office. If you have any questions, Greg Abbott, chair of SPRC, or I would be happy to answer them. Please pray for Avenue Church as we continue to transition, and God bless us all.

Peace, Pastor Tom
