The Worst Best Christmas Ever

Indie musician Sufjan Stevens has released over 100 Christmas songs during his acclaimed career. One of those songs is called That Was the Worst Christmas Ever. The lyrics are sad and talk about a father throwing gifts into a furnace and yelling at the kids. While that is not my experience of Christmas morning, I suspect that there are plenty of Christmas' that would be better to forget.

I know that we would like to forget much of 2020. There have been so many negative things that have taken place. We continue to feel the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic in our world and our community. This week, the pandemic is hitting close to home. After much conversation and prayer, we will be cancelling all our in-person Christmas Eve services and worshipping online on December 24th. We will also meet virtually for the December 27th and January 3rd Worship services. This is not something that I take lightly. Our staff has worked hard to create space each Sunday to worship safely. We are monitoring situations that prevent us from believing we can provide that with in-person worship this week. If Sufjan was writing his Christmas song today, it might include the cancelling of Christmas Eve service. It is certainly not what I was hoping for at Christmas.

Thankfully, Christmas is more than candles and carols. It is more than wrapping paper and ornaments. Its meaning is more transformational than Santa Claus and eight tiny reindeer. As we gather for Christmas online and with our families, our Christmas celebration is a declaration that God is With Us. God is with us through a pandemic. When we feel isolated and alone, God is with Us. In the midst of financial questions, God is with us. Through our fears and anxieties, God is with us. When we are self-aware of our sinfulness and feel unworthy of God's love, God is with us!

At Christmas, we celebrate the birth of Jesus, Emmanuel. The word, Emmanuel, means God with us. This is not some impersonal, remote or distant understanding of God. God came to us in the person of Jesus. St. Athanasius wrote, God became man so that man might become God. God became like us in order to show us the way to life with God! This is only possible in the person of Jesus.

This Christmas may feel like the worst Christmas ever. The message of Christmas is that God is with us no matter what we are going through. This is the best gift we could have received. May God bless you and your family this Christmas.

We have extra sets. Harriet and June

OFFICE OPEN- DOORS CLOSING: With the increase in cases of COVID-19 in our area and in an effort to limit traffic in the church, we will be keeping the main entrance doors locked during the week even while the office remains open for the short-term. Ideas for Creating New Holiday Traditions After a Death

In God's time he calls each of us home. That does not mean the ones left behind must forget. Cherish the wonderful memories you made together. Start by creating new holiday traditions.

1. Make your loved one's favorite food
2. Listen and sing to their favorite song
3. Make a holiday tablecloth. Invite guests and have a plain tablecloth with sharpies. Let your guests write on the tablecloth their favorite memory of the loved one.
4. Light a battery-operated candle at the beginning of the holiday season and let it stay lite all season.
5. Have a candle lighting ceremony the night before the holiday. Give everyone a candle and let them light it in memory of the loved one.
6. Read a poem that reminds you of your loved one
7. Give to your favorite charity or give a gift to make someone smile
8. Tell stories about your loved ones
9. Add an extra plate at the table
10. Put an empty box out for family and friends to write down a memory of your loved one. You can read them throughout the year.
11. Place a memory tree up with your loved one's favorite season or hobby ornaments on it
12. Write down any regrets and burn them in a fire

“This I recall to my mind, therefore have I hope. It is of the Lord’s mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not. They are new every morning: great is they faithfulness.”
